A Letter
Dear Bride and Groom
The time has come the Walrus said to talk of many things.
There are indeed many things to talk over as you prepare to exchange your vows within a Catholic ceremony.
Whether you plan to be surrounded by a few close friends and family members or as many guests as the fire marshal will allow there are important decisions to be made.
The
details can be so numerous that they threaten to overshadow
importance of the occasion. Often you might wish for the flick of a magic wand that will bring happily ever after to instant reality.
During these festive months of preparation for your wedding day and married life examine who you are and hope to become. Look closely at what you are about. Try to understand both the nuances and the impact of the preparation for and celebration of your wedding. Let your preparation be a model for the life you are beginning together. Our fond hope is that this book will help you as you think of these many things and that it will assist you in celebrating your wedding with confidence and freedom. May the gracious God who has begun this good work in you carry it through to completion. Tile Authors
