For me this is a dream come true. So many hundreds of people have booked me to print a collection of recipes from my readers have asked column which has appeared every Sunday in the Baltimore Sunpapers for 30 years. I am honored to be part of this collection. I have been a part of the most treasured of all things, a recipe. Each one of these recipes has been passed down from generation to generation. I shall always remember each person who shared his/her time and recipes with me. Each cook that all people who love to cook share a common bond of love of the home and
