Bloodcurdling and bone-chilling! This spine-tingling collection brings together the most celebrated creatures in classic horror fiction. Vampires and werewolves prowl the pages of this book in various weird and wonderful stories from masters of the genre. With classics by writers such as Bram Stoker, Saki and Frederick Cowles alongside more contemporary chillers by authors such as Angela Carter, Anthony Masters and an original story by Alan Durant himself, here is the perfect introduction to an ever popular literary genre.
