Preface
Meet the Faith Club. We re three mothers from three faiths--Islami¼CE >Christianityi¼CE and Judaism--who got together to write a picture book for children that would highlight the connections between our reli>gions. But no sooner had we started talking about our beliefs and how >to explain them to our children than our differences led to misunder>standings. Our project nearly fell apart.
> We realized that before we could talk about what united us we had >to confront what divided us in matters of faithi¼CE Godi¼CE and religion. We >had to reveal our own worst fearsi¼CE prejudicesi¼CE and stereotypes.
> So we made a commitment to meet regularly. We talked in our liv>ing rooms over cups of jasmine tea and bars of dark chocolate. No >question was deemed inappropriatei¼CE no matter how rude or politically >incorrect. We taped our conversations and kept journals as we discussed everything from jihad to Jesus's heaven to holy texts. Somewhere along the way our moments of conflict frustration and anger gave way to new understanding and great respect. Now we invite you into our Faith Club to eavesdrop on our conversations. Come into our living rooms and share our life-altering experience. Perhaps when you're finished you will want to have a faith club of your own.
