 Painful Recollections
 \"The true art of memory is the art of attention.\"
 Samuel Johnson
 l he Impossible Dream.
 An unexpected phone call in November¼E 1991 sent my heart bunding and flooded my mind with memories. The call was om a man who asked if I was a distributor for XYZ Company. e said he had just discovered XYZ s name in the business ages of the phone book under my name and was very surprised find the company name listed there. He had been told there ere no other XYZ distributors in Colorado.
 He had recently bought a distributorship from XYZ and had st received his product. He was very excited and enthusiastic 9out his new business venture but wondered who I was.
~leartburn.
 My stomach sunk. Should I tell him about my terrible sperience with XYZ Company or wait for him to discover the uth for himself?. I could only offer him cold hard facts and sappointment.
