The problem is however is that in the midst of all this strutting about inventing the chain saw municipal bonds and oral sex everyone has overlooked one important fact: Who do you think brought all those Real Men into the world in the first place? Who carried them for nine months? Who cooked their first hamburgers? Who taught them how to open a bottle of ketchup? Real Women of course. Going a step further let us not forget that even the pope has a mother Ciint Eastwood did not spring whole from the loins of a man and throughout history Real Women Don't Pump Gas
