From the Leaders of Today For the Leaders of Tomorrow Capturing the Vision Envision, if you will, the opportunity to sit down face to face with dozens of today's most successful leaders. Leaders in business, in sports, in public service. Leaders who have learned the lessons of success the hard way, through experience, through trial and error, through times when success seemed beyond their grasp. Elaborate on that vision. These same men and women are now going to share their hard-won secrets with you. They have agreed to tell you everything they know about:~ Managing the problems that come with success~ Creating success out of failure~ Earning the support and loyalty of your teammates~ Facing the unique challenges of the 90s, and more Is this an opportunity you can afford to turn down? Not if you envision yourself as one of the leaders of tomorrow.
