Book Description First impressions are crucial in today's social and professional environments, and personal appearance plays an important role in creating this impression. Here, gathered by America's foremost image consultants, are 500 beauty secrets, professional tricks and fashion tips to help the woman of the 90s look powerful and beautiful. The book includes advice on which styles best flatter specific body types; tricks to accentuate your strongest features; simple makeup and hair style tips; organizational ideas to simplify a daily routine; quick fashion and beauty secrets to enhance self-confidence, create a romantic mood, or raise a flagging spirit; ideas to minimize clothing expenditures through smart shopping; and much more. For more than a decade, the authors have solved problems for thousands of private clients, and collected fool-proof answers to their most asked questions. With Instant Style, these professional secrets are right at women's fingertips. About the Author Emily Cho founded the first image consulting firm in the country, and she continues to run it today. Cho is a frequent fashion guest for television talk and news shows. She lives in Alpine, NJ.
