For so many women todayi¼ men are confusingi¼ even incomprehensible. They seem to operate according to a murky set of rules women have never quite learned.
Victoriai¼ 30i¼ is a nurse at a big-city general hospital. She s ready to get married and start a familyi¼ buti¼ like so many women toda)i¼ she s baffled by men s behavior. \I help male patients of all ages through all kinds of medical crisesi¼ but when it comes to relationshipsi¼ I don t have a clue to what s going on m a man s head. What~do they want? What does it take to make them want to call back? How do you >turn a few dates into a relationship¼ how do you make it work? I am so tired of going home aching with loneliness and secretly feeling that things will never change. \" Donna is a 41-year-old attorney who has been married for nine years. \"I m so different now than when Tom and I first got married¼ but he doesn t seem to appreciate that. I don t know whether he s threatened or what¼ but I wish he would talk to me;£
