Six very different girls - Jodie, Emma, Steph, Kate, Sophie and Rachel - bound together by their passion for horses. This volume contains Jodie, Emma and Steph's stories, the first three books in this thrilling series about the pupils of Brook House Riding School.

Jodie is a talented rider who must find the courage to get back in the saddle following a horrific traffic accident. Emma has to prove her innocence when it appears her carelessness has placed one of the riding school ponies in danger. Steph is shocked and hurt when she is dropped from the top riding group. She recklessly turns her back on everything she has been taught, risking losing Monty, her favourite pony, forever.
