A fantastic collection of poems from the wonderful James Carter, in which he talks about amazing inventions, teaches us how to play air guitar, explores nature, visits outer space, writes a fantasy Christmas list and gives us invaluable advice about time-travelling underpants...Don't forget to hold on to the sides of your pants and to chant out loud. The Time Travelling Underpants Owners' Mantra before each time-trip is: My pants are warm and free from grime and as I journey far in time I travel safe with peace of mind : my pants are clean.
