The United States of America was a child left alone to stand or fall. We faltered at first, but we did not give up. And we did not fall. Our ideals sustained us.

Strong men and women gave their lives so this country of ours could grow, prosper and achieve greatness. They gave of themselves because they believed in the American dream of freedom--freedom from want, freedom from fear, and freedom from tyranny.
