The new ways of living have given rise to exciting new concepts and configurations of spaces within the home, and resulted in some of the most innovative and eye-catching interiors of today.Â Urban Pads features inspirational projects from around the Asian region, and offers a look into the many faces and aspects of urban living that reflect the uniquely individual spirit of the projects and the cities in which they dwell. ÂGone are the days when a home simply denoted a place to stay, today a home can be a reflection of the owners taste, style and most importantly personality.
