This book is the comprehensive account of Martin Parr's unique postcard collection. Featuring 650 cards, selected by Parr from his collection of over 20,000 cards built over 30 years, its contents are presented in the manner of a postcard album. A highly entertaining journey into the themes of Parrworld, it is also a serious study of postcard history through the 20th century. Presented in 20 chronologically sequenced chapters, the book opens with British postcards from the beginning of the century, made to mark notable local news events such as car crashes, murders, lightning strikes and acts of suffragette vandalism. It continues through the elaborate story-telling postcards of W. Gothard, whose Barnsley studio commemorated mining and shipping disasters; a collection on incidents of World War I, from scenes of bombing to celebrations of war heroes; novelty portrait postcards from the 1920s and 1930s; bizarre hand-coloured cards from the 1930s; and the holiday postcards of John Hinde that so influenced Parr's own photographic style. The book ends in Boring Postcards territory with a selection of late 20th century postcards promoting new motorways, airports and shops.

老postcards，很多就是發黃的黑白老照片…抱一本可以省下很多網拍的錢了。。。哈

太猛了！

在星光翻完的 印象很深的是复制同一人圆桌会议一般的Portrait 很迷幻
还有后期着色的夜景照片 诡异又童话感
