Do these sound like commands the church of the twenty-first century could use? They sure do! Though they were written to the late first-century churches in Asia Minor, these seven messages from Christ Himself speak piercingly to the needs of Christians of all places and all centuries--especially to our own. The warnings, counsel, encouragement, and instruction

Christ gives us in Revelation 1-3 are challenging but well worth the time and effort to study. So, whether you dig in as an individual (Jr with your church body, prepare to be changed. These words beckon us to not only hear but heed. May they help us live more boldly for our Savior as we await His return!
