It is early 1942. You are in San Francisco, and you need a private eye. Sam Spade is rumored to be in Istanbul. The Continental Op has been drafted and is a sergeant in the Areutians. Philip Marlowe is up at Little Fawn Lake investigating the disappearance of Mrs. Derace Kingsley. Lew Archer is in the army.

Who s left? Nobody but C. Card. You haven t heard of C. Card? That s all right. Nobody has.
When you hire C. Card, the hero of Richard Brautigan s eighth novel, you have scraped the bottom of the private eye barrel.
But you won t be bored. No indeed.
Because when C. Card finds some bullets for his gun, you will be in for some fast, funny, slam-bang private eye adventures.
