Former Israeli Secret Service officer Sam Woolfman is about to be plunged into the most deadly conspiracy of his career. He has been called out of retirement to investigate the terror attack that occurred onboard an American jet that has crashed in the Scottish village of Lockerbie. A bomb clearly detonated inside the aircraft, but who planted it? Who were they working for? And who were they really trying to kill? As Sam starts to unravel the mystery, a global conspiracy of terrifying proportions involving Iran, Lebanon, and even the CIA takes shape. Most terrifying of all, Sam knows that if he finds the real answer, he might be the next to die.
