Just the right book for choosing just the right color, every time * Professional guidance on using color in interiors and exteriors * International scope! Published in English, French, German, and Spanish Just the right blue...just the right yellow...just the right green...choosing just the right color for interiors and exteriors can be challenging. Ideas: Color is here to help designers and architects create color settings that satisfy the eye, the mind, and the spirit. With more than 400 color photographs, authors and architects Fernando de Haro and Omar Fuentes explore the influence of color on the apparent depth and proportions of a space; the effect of indoor lighting and natural light on color; hue combinations; and more.
