The world-famous author of Rich Man. Poor Man and Beggarman, Thief has created one of his most memorable characters for one of his most unusual novels: a brilliantly written story of a man who needs to risk death to feel fully alive, a man who turns away from a comfortable, outwardly successful life toward dangerous pleasures.

Michael Storrs's joy comes from physical danger as a parachutist, a surfer a hang glider, a free faller, a reckless skier.

Oppressed by his life in New York City, he feels choked by his career as an executive in a high-powered office, choked by the airless world of air-conditioned towers.
His own sanity depends on his finding a purer, simpler, more vigorous existence.
and he sets out to search for one. even though he loses his wife in the process.
