Leading Residential Architects showcases a rich portfolio of some of the country's most respected, award-winning residential architects and their home designs. Readers meet the architects behind these beautiful homes and learn what inspires them. In accessible text and more than 300 photographs, the book reveals the creative process of planning and designing homes that inspire and enlighten. Leading Residential Architects captures the essence of what it means to make a home that is memorable and enduring — and helps readers visualize making their own dream home become reality.
