Into the vast, windswept prairie two men come riding. One is Vint Lonegan, government agent. His mission is to track down a vicious army deserter running guns to the Indians. The other is William Louis Beaumont, Louisiana rebel. His quest is a matter of personal vengeance. What these two will discover is that they re both after the same man. But what they re about to come up against is a far deadlier challenge: a Cheyenne army under the insurgent warrior Three Hands. Now. as the Indians prepare for a wholesale massacre, Lonegan and Beaumont must join forces with the very outlaws they d sworn to pursue. For united they stand. divided they die.
