Heralding the 25th anniversary of the death of Thomas Merton comes this unique personal portrait of the final decade in the life of the world-famous and beloved Trappist monk. Like no other book to date, or any likely to come, Song for Nobody captures Merton's human spirit in all its dimensions.

Poet, writer, and intimate friend Ron Seitz shares in this "remembrance portrait" many special and heretofore unrecouted moments when like minds and kindred souls met at Monk's Pond on the grounds of Gethsemani Abbey to dialogue about Life and all its mystery. It is a loving and honest tribute to the memory of a "nan" who has had a profound and lasting impact on the lives of millions. Seitz draws from personal journal notes he kept over a ten-year period to reveal Merton in his most human and appealing light: sensitive poet/writer; joyous and open-hearted friend; spiritual solitary; mystic; teacher; and more.

The Merton who emerges from these pages may startle, provoke, inspire, renew...even delight. But above all, to encounter him for whom the hermitage was not an escape from the world but a place to share in others suffering and struggle will surely affirm readers in their own evolving spiritual quest.

This book is destined to take a special place in the enormous library of Mertania.
