Imagine if your body had a mind of its own My name is Sebastian Cole. I am 30 years old. You have only known me through my novels, written as Samuel Farnsworth, my pseudonym. I am lying in my bed, attended by my wife, while I am gradually being crushed to death. The only skill that remains to me is the ability to chronicle the tragedy that has inexorably enveloped my life. Sebastian Cole is a young man with unusual disabilities who is writing a memoir of his unique and bizarre life. The Dystopian Man is an inspiring story about how a single individual can turn a life filled with strange and recurrent hardships and suffering into one of humor and joy, perhaps even finding the gifts that are wrapped within.
