Kaya helps her father run his hotel on Phuket Island in Thailand during her college vacations. On New Year's Day, she and her father take two of the guests on a boat trip to the famous beauty spot in Phang Nga Bay. Etienne is a photographer, and delighted at the opportunity to photograph the unusual pillars of limestone rock that rise out of the sea. Lisa is crazy about movies and is thrilled when she hears that her favourite movie star, James Rogers, is making a film there. They never imagined that they would become quite so closely involved with the action on location!
