A sprinkle of magic fairy dust and some Flower Fairies friends come to Lily's rescue. It's a glorious summer day in the Flower Fairies Garden, but Lily is feeling restless. When she bumps into Buttercup and Cowslip by the pond, they decide it's time to explore a new part of the Flower Fairyland, and as they've always wanted to go to the seaside, they decide to head toward the coast. It's a long way for three small fairies to travel, but when they eventually reach their destination, it's all they've ever dreamed of. That is, until the tide comes in quickly, and the fairies realize that without the help of some new fairy friends and some magic fairy dust, they might not make it back to the safety of their garden!
