'Get a girlfriend in two months...do us a favour!' When our young hero takes up the crazy challenge laid down by his best mate Rich to find a girlfriend by the end of the summer, nothing seems simpler. He's a street-wise, smart kinda guy - and boy meets girl; boy wins bet, right? So why does he feel like everything he does ends in disaster? Please note - boys should avoid the following activities unless fully prepared - ironing, decorating, barbecuing and appearing in drag. After a series of catastrophic failures at attracting the opposite sex and with time running out, our hero finally realises that finding a girlfriend really isn't that hard, if you know where to look.
