Even dragons have to eat! It's nearly bedtime and the baby dragon is getting hungry. Mummy dragon searches for just the right snack among the villagers. Not the mean queen, not the three musketeers, not the old magician...the two dragons scour the town, but the people are too tricky! After travelling in and out of a beautifully detailed medieval town, filled with colourful characters, Mama and baby dragon settle down to a good night's sleep in this warm, funny tale.
