Gardening is one of life's most civilized pleasures. Whether novice or expert, there's always something new to know and discover. Recent years have seen an array of innovation and new products in the gardening world. Gardening is a somewhat unpredictable hobby with the vagaries of weather, soil and just plain luck playing a large part. Design is the framework that gives shape to Mother Nature. This useful and motivating guide shows how seating, paths, lighting terraces, walls, decoration and water all play a part. Learn how your outdoor space can be a place to treasure.
