作者介绍:

Michel Strickman is from Germany and has studied in France for many years, and he is proficient in German, French, English, and Chinese. He once worked as a professor of Department of Oriental and Asian Studies in Berkeley College of California University. His Daoist study has focused on the Six-dynasty period and published a series of works.

The Mao Shan Revelations: Daoism and the Aristocracy

Tao Hongjing's Alchemy

Daoism

The Daoist History

The Daoist Literature

A Daoist Confirmation of Liang Wu Di's Suppression of Daoism

The Longest Daoist Scripture ----- the Book of Salvation 14

Chinese Religion, History and Anthropology

The Revelation of the Highest Clarity Tradition: the Mao Shan Sect

The Therapy Ritual as the Therapy and the Ideas of Evils in Early Daoism

In the early 1990s, Strickman left Berkeley of California University for France to teach and do his research in a university in the south of France. Unfortunately he died young like Anna Seidel.
