Have you ever wondered what dogs are thinking? Or how they see their world? Steve

Marsh became an "accidental dog whisperer" one day when he sensed his Black Lab-Rhodesian Ridgeback was trying to tell him about an idea for a book of haiku. What resulted was "Dog-ku," a genuinely funny celebration of dogs (and their issues). Featuring haiku on topics ranging from treats, food, and hygiene to commentary on cats, squirrels, and other breeds, "Dog-ku" tackles the wonders and frustrations of dog life from a dog's perspective. Utterly irresistible and totally relatable for dog-loving humans of all breeds, "Dog-ku" is sure to have you laughing in a mere three lines and seventeen syllables. Advanced Praise for "Dog-ku": "Funny furry words A sweet book to give; to get Warm wise and woofy." --Mordecai Siegal, bestselling author of "Dog Spelled Backwards" "It's a dog's life Zac and Steve tell it like it is with charm, wit, and thoughtfulness.... A must-read for all dog owners who hear the lovely sound of their dogs' hearts and voices in their heads." --Charlotte Reed, author of "The Miss Fido Manners Complete Book of Dog Etiquette"
