How do you track somebody who doesn't leave a trail? Britain, 2057. Bounty hunter Karl Zendik knows it's not going to be an easy job tracking down the man who escaped from the world's most secure prison. As he follows his prey across the country he slowly begins to uncover more of the secrets buried in the history of a man with no past. But for every secret he uncovers, a dozen more lie buried beneath. Things don't improve when he finds out he's not the only hunter after the bounty and soon Zendik realises that not everybody wants the target brought back alive. A Pocketful Of Secrets is the first in the Fallen Skies series by Markham J Eggleton.
