Ferlinghetti's sequel to A Coney Island of the Mind, written forty years afterwards in what the author called "a poetry seizure" that lasted more than a year. A sequence of one hundred and one poems with recurrent themes, it includes various sections on love, art, music, history, and literature, as well as confrontations with major figures in the avant-garde before the arrival of the Beat generation. This paperback edition also includes eighteen new poems form Pictures of the Gone World, published under Ferlinghetti's own City Lights imprint.
