Earth has lost contact with Expeditionary Force Tango 1 after a short but brutal fight on the far side of a newly discovered stargate. The politicians's first response is an attempt to destroy the stargate and isolate themselves from this unprecedented new threat. Entrepreneur adventurer Jason Straun is cut from a different cloth, and both his daughter and best friend are among the missing. Furthermore, he has an ace in the hole. In absolute secrecy, one of his companies has just completed the first-of-its-kind FTL starship. Now, with the clandestine help of the Minister of Fleet, he will try to rescue those he loves and learn the truth about their attackers. Little does he know that the attackers, powerful though they are, will pale into insignificance by the end of his odyssey.
