A war-torn young hero, Bishop, wanders the desecrated lands of his world, searching for the creature that killed his beloved Maggie. His body is broken and disfigured, heas being hunted by his best friend, and he has no idea of the key role he will play in the fate of three worlds. The vile creature Haggaroht has set his evil plan in motion. He intends to use Bishop as the tool to free himself and to destroy the council that imprisoned him long ago. The fate of Sai and her two sister planets lies in the hands of a young boy and the people and creatures he meets along his journey. His soul is marked as the final element needed to tip the scales of power toward good or evil. Bishop is pushed beyond the limits of his body, mind, and soul while trying to find the path to redemption.
