"Tremendous . a reader-pleaser in every way . The people, places, and times that Wood] evokes so movingly, so vividly, will haunt me long after I've put the book aside . Such a moving ending-and exactly right." -Phyllis Whitney, "New York Times" best-selling author Acclaimed novelist Barbara Wood delivers a magnificent saga of two proud and powerful families-one British, one African-and their battle over Kenya's destiny in the twentieth century. In 1917, Dr. Grace Treverton arrives in Kenya, determined to bring modern medicine to the African natives. Her brother, Sir Valentine Treverton, has his own dream for the British protectorate: to establish an agricultural empire to rival any in England. The aspirations of the wealthy Trevertons collide with those of the Mathenge tribe, an African family that has lived on the land for years. Grace soon finds a deadly rival in Mama Wachera, an African medicine woman who fights to maintain native traditions against the encroaching whites. After Wachera curses the Trevertons, a series of tragedies threatens to destroy what the once-great family fought to create. But the fates of future generations of these two remarkable families are inextricably bound. A bold and brilliant achievement, "Green City in the Sun" brims with all the drama, violence, and fierce beauty of the Kenyan landscape.
