Written by diplomatic practitioners, "Human Security and the New Diplomacy" is a straightforward account of challenges already overcome and the prospect for further progress. From the evolution of peace-keeping, to peacebuilding, humanitarian intervention, war-affected children, international humanitarian law, the International Criminal Court, the economic agendas of conflict, transnational crime, and the emergence of connectivity and a global civil society, the authors offer new insights into the importance of considering these issues as part of a single agenda. "Human Security and the New Diplomacy" is a case-study of a major Canadian foreign policy initiative and a detailed account of the first phase of the human security agenda. It is the story of Canada's leading role in promoting a humanitarian approach to international relations, it will be of interest to foreign policy specialists and students alike.
