Coleman does not want to go to his great-grandma Ruth's 90th birthday dinner. He'd rather go with his friends to Stinke Cheese's, Home of the Limburger Cheese Pizza and Skee-ball-O-Rama. When Coleman is sent to his room to ponder his selfishness, Sockariah reminds him of a woman from the Bible with the same name as his great-grandma Ruth. This beautiful young lady had a choice to ditch her mother-in-law or to stay with her. Her choice to stay pleased God and He blessed her. Coleman, Sockariah points out, needs to make a choice . . . to cheese, or not to cheese. That is the question.
