This sourcebook is organized around 31 of the most common problems people seek counseling for, including life challenges, such as marital conflict, grief, and chronic illness, as well as challenges of faith. For each problem, behavioral definitions and potential counseling goals are provided, along with dozens of suggested interventions—many of which draw upon the client's faith as a source of healing. This unique counseling aid also features: More than 1,000 well-crafted treatment planning components for many of life's thorniest problems A sample counseling plan that can be emulated by both experienced counselors and novices Pages afford plenty of space to record customized counseling goals, objectives, and interventions
