Storytelling is older than the Bible. The Bible consists of stories that arose out of an oral tradition, and Jesus was a master storyteller. The monologue is a form of preaching that captures the eyes, ears, and brains of the congregation. Stories and actions are more easily recalled than propositions or paralleled points in a sermon. Mention any character in the Bible and people will see a mental image of a favorite story, not the theme of a moralistic sermon. This book will help pastors use the monologue form to connect with their congregation in a vital and vibrant way.
