NO SPEAKER WANTS TO BE BORING-not even a tiny bit. Nevertheless, boring speeches, sermons, sales pitches, business presentations, commencement addresses, and classroom lectures happen. All too often, they happen. But they don't have to. Ever. Each riveting chapter in Turn Boring Orations into Standing Ovations was written to help you master the essentials-the things you must do to become a dynamic speaker. After consulting hundreds of the finest communicators in the world, the authors feel confident this book contains priceless advice for anyone serious about speaking in public. Page by page, chapter by chapter, you'll learn what the speaking pros know so you can do what the speaking pros do. Follow the guidelines presented and you will become a better speaker. Guaranteed. Begin the journey and take the first steps to a standing ovation. No more boring orations. Ever. That's a promise you can take to the podium.
