The penultimate book in the hugely popular Agent Angel series sees Mel Beeby travelling through time and space to India, to babysit a very special little boy! With her inner angel on the blink, Mel is confined to base, where she helps out at the Divine nursery. Whilst there, she discovers that calm little Obi will soon be leaving the school, destined to become a great spiritual leader on Earth. Mel knows she must accompany him on this dangerous journey and her buddies loyally offer to go with her. But something scares Obi and he vanishes. They know the little boy's in India, but nobody knows exactly where or when. In a mission that is both illegal and dangerous, Mel and her mates travel across the sub-continent and through time, until they track down Obi at a poor shanty town, where the calm little boy is already having his own thoughts about what he wants to do!
