Powder room, comfort station, privy, loo, dunny - the infinite variety of names we invent for this universal necessity, the toilet, is matched by an extraordinary variety of designs worldwide, from miniature log cabins in the Canadian wilderness to state-of-the-art cubicles in Japan, and from huts on stilts in the Caribbean to solar-powered sanitaryware in New Zealand. This amusing but also highly informative photographic journey reveals the idiosyncrasy and inventiveness that characterize the construction of the humble toilet around the globe. Along the way, the reader encounters every possible permutation, from the traditional English 'thunderbox' to the Swazi thatched 'beehive' hut, and discovers the fascinating cultural and historical differences that can make our travels to other countries so enjoyable.

书评

一本展示各国各式各样厕所的书。只能说大开眼界。
北美有一个厕所设计了女士站着就可以用的便池。英格兰有周末才从地底升起的街边便池。亚洲的精彩就更多了。
印度和土耳其都是用水和左手擦屁股。所以土耳其厕所里，肥皂很普遍并且洗手池里常常还会有洁厕球。纸很少用，一般...
