How would one describe the works of Herbert Unterberger without the use of superlatives? The Sculptor projects for us his vision of the powers of the world - necessarily abstracted - where stone giants awake, and time imprints granite with form. His works beg to be touched, they endear and unfold themselves mysteriously, smooth and sleek, caressing our hyper-aware senses. Herbert Unterberger transports us with strength and might into an explosive galaxy of the spiritual, jostling us between all tangible futures and thousands of years of ancient stone.
