"Susanne Gotterg paints the impossible,so hat it appears natural.. She is not afraid of illuion, far from it", Sara Enholm Hielm writes here in her article on Gotterg's work. "But there is the piercing feeling of heartbreaking bravery in the exquisite miniature paintings: this is how closely a girl once used to watch the neighbour's house from her window."

The painter Susanne Gottberg is presented here with 33 works from 2003 to 2007. Gottberg works and lives in Helsinki. After she graduated from the Academy of Fine Arts in 1989, She has been working as a free artist. Every Finnish collection of significance and also several Swedish collections posses works by Gottberg.

All texts and written in Finnish, Swedish and English.
