In today’s dangerous world of espionage and counterespionage one man is known as the ‘top’ man in his field: Ace Lewis international agent. If the mission needs a hard man he’s the one the governments summon. An engagingly seductive lothario he always gets the job done while getting the man as well. But this time Ace may have trouble for the illusive ‘fat man’ is on the prowl once more and plots are hatching that will test the good-looking agent’s skills. Can Ace foil the wily schemes of this dangerous foe or for the first time will the top man in his field learn how it feels to fall victim to the flip side in their macho contest of wills? The game is on and only one can emerge as the top alpha dog in this kennel of spies and enemy agents.
