Following up on the success of "Web Design: Portfolios", this volume features the internet's best examples of artists, design studios, photographers, designers, and corporations that use Flash to showcase their creations. What once existed only in printed form - brochures, leaflets, catalogs, and other promotional material - is increasingly being featured online via dynamic, animated Flash-powered sites. "Flashfolios" contains a selection of such websites developed exclusively using Flash, demonstrating the sophistication and range of interactive web design today.
