作者介绍:

Miller joined the Army from Albuquerque, New Mexico, and by January 5, 1970 was serving as a Staff Sergeant in the 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces. On that day, in Kontum Province, Republic of Vietnam, Miller's small group came under attack from a numerically superior enemy force. He single-handedly held off an enemy assault, arranged for a helicopter extraction of his unit, and again fought off the enemy alone until relief arrived. For his actions during the battle, in which he was seriously wounded, he was awarded the Medal of Honor.
