This is a dedicated mailing and e-mail campaign to targeted art related media & organizations. Throughout his career, Francesco Vezzoli has focused on people's fascination with celebrity - from his needlework portraits of Maria Callas and Anna Magnani to his short film "Trailer for a Remake of Gore Vidal's Caligula", starring Dame Helen Mirren, Courtney Love, and Gerard Butler. In late 2007, Vezzoli gathered together an A-list cast - inc. Cate Blanchett, Natalie Portman, Anita Ekberg, and Peter Sarsgaard - for a re-staging of Pirandello's acclaimed "Right You Are (If You Think You Are)" at the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, New York. This magnificently illustrated volume provides readers with fully documented overview of the performance, which showcases Vezzoli's unique artistic vision.
