Classic Election Studies is an edited collection of essays by top scholars whose work has been influential in the area of election studies, including Seymour Martin Lipset, William McGuire, John Zaller, Merrill Shanks, Asher Arian, Denis McQuail, Samuel Popkin, Juan Linz, Kathy Frankovic, Larry Bartels. The work arises from a series of ten colloquia held at the Annenberg School of Communication at the University of Pennsylvania over the past few years. In this timely collection, Katz has pulled together definitive discussions of classic election studies.
