The idea behind this book is to present a fascinating overview of many artists' studios through expert onsite photography, a la Art-Making, Collections & Obsessions. In addition, the book features and discusses the work made in those spaces, and includes pages that provide a journal-like or visual essay treatment of the topic. The combination of clearly expert and polished photos (from Sarah Blodgett) covering both the studio spaces and work of the artists, plus the "made by hand" journal pages (by Lynne), creates a book on the winning topic of studios unlike any other published venture.
